

Project Foreman

MTX Fruit Ripening Systems N.A.
Rockwood, Ontario

Employment Type: Full Time

Job Description

MTX is looking to add an intelligent, hardworking, and experienced Project Foreman to our team. You will be at the center of the company's active projects both in preparation at our facility and implementation of construction on site. This position requires initiative, attention to detail, ability to learn quickly, ability to manage internal and external relationships, ability to manage and participate in the construction of proprietary technology, and great communication skills. This is an ideal position for a smart, motivated, and experienced individual with a passion for multi-disciplinary construction in a fast-paced environment. You will look to easily complete your core responsibilities while taking on new responsibilities to move both MTX and your career forward.

We're offering an experienced individual the opportunity to play a key role in our continued growth, providing great opportunity for advancement, great diversity in the day to day responsibilities, and competitive wages.

Specific Responsibilities:

- Participate in projects from conception to commissioning
- Lead in the installation of new systems or equipment
- Responsible for managing site progress, trades, and all items pertaining to the construction process.
- Site commissioning and troubleshooting of new installations
- Build and maintain excellent relationships with project team, trades, contractor's, architects, consultants and our clients
- Contribute at MTX in the assembly and fabrication of proprietary systems prior to shipment to site for final installation.
- Preparation of equipment and materials for site installation
- Day to day management of on-site staff and trades.

- Review project drawings and specifications to gain a full understanding of the project
- Oversee the activities and performance of subcontractors to ensure compliance with quality requirements
- Responsible for delivering projects on schedule
- Assist in developing best construction practices and implementing on site.
- Preparation of daily on-site schedules
- Resolve worksite issues quickly and effectively to keep work progress on track
- Provide a daily report of site conditions
- Provide customers with training specific to their equipment, e.g. equipment operation, functionality, and use.
- Be an ambassador for MTX during site visits, correspondence, and interactions with vendors and business affiliates.
- Proactively recognize site requirements ensuring adequate time is allotted for acquiring materials and or labour for work to be completed.
- Follow all safety procedures according to MTX's Health and Safety policies in addition to any customer specific Health and Safety procedures.
- Communicate respectfully with both the MTX team, customers, vendors, and subcontractors which contributes to a desirable working environment.
- Be receptive to both internal and external training personnel.
- Dedication to improving the level of both service and installations provided by MTX
- Travelling required

Desired Skills and Experience:

- 5+ Years of construction experience with progression in leadership roles
- You have demonstrated strong leadership and ability to manage projects through to completion
- Able to efficiently manage and prioritize multiple projects/tasks simultaneously
- Ability to be flexible in response to changing priorities and needs
- Strong written and oral communication skills
- You are highly collaborative and team oriented
- You work well with little direction but know when to ask for help and keep your team informed
- Experience in industrial/commercial construction
- Ability to multi-task and prioritize
- Innovative problem-solving and strong analytical skills
- Strong organizational, interpersonal, problem solving, and analytical skills
- Mandatory computer skills: MS Word, MS Excel, MS Office, and Outlook
- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Fall arrest, aerial boom, forklift, and WHIMIS training would be an asset.
- Proficient with hand tools
- Must have valid driver's license and transportation

We thank all applicants for their interest in a career at MTX, however, only those candidates in consideration for an interview will be contacted

Please submit resumes to info@mtxfruitripening.com

www.ripeningrooms.com

About MTX

MTX is an industry-leading provider of postharvest solutions through automated processes and design build construction. With over 30 years of experience in both automation and construction our team is consistently refining our approach and fine-tuning designs that meet today's high standards. MTX places a high value on sustainability through energy efficiency and product design.

Office locations in both Toronto and Manchester have allowed our team to build long-term relationships with clients around the globe. We believe that the key to meeting our client expectations is our ongoing investment into research and development. Strong relationships with our customers allow us to continually deliver high quality products, economically and on time. As a team, we strive to provide our customers with unparalleled solutions deep-seated in sustainable design and quality.

As a family run business founded on principles of honesty, integrity and hard work our team is committed in bringing forth solutions that help our customers compete in today's marketplace.